GENERAL BUSINESS

BATTLE POINT PARK CELL TOWER LEASE TO UNISON: Park Services Division Director Dan Hamlin said several offers have been received over the years to buy out the AT&T cell tower lease on the Battle Point Park water tower. Unison has proposed to lease the cell tower from the Park District for one lump sum payment or 10 equal installments over either 15- or 30-year periods. Unison would increase the lease footprint below the water tower by 300 square feet and add their own apparatus and the Park District would receive 65% of the profits of any new customers Unison brings on. Park District Attorney Hayes Gori has vetted the documents and the AT&T lease allows the Park District to do this. Commissioner Janow asked how the 300-foot easement expansion at the bottom of the tower would affect the public. Park Services Superintendent David Harry said staff can confirm, but there is probably no desire to move the easement out from the area underneath the water tower. Commissioner Janow said it would be important to know how much additional revenue would be earned. Commissioner Kinney said the only reason to do it would be to fund a Capital Improvement Fund project and that it is no different than getting a loan. Executive Director Terry Lande said staff has more work to do before making a recommendation and noted that this offer is not going to go away. The board agreed to have staff continue to evaluate the offer.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Administrative Division: Administrative Division Director Amy Swenson said the 2020-2021 audit entrance conference was held today. The auditor's office made staff aware that they received a hotline complaint about Park District employees receiving a free pass to Bainbridge Island Recreation Center and they will investigate it as a gift of public funds. They said the other hotline complaint they received about the purchase of intangible property in regard to the purchase of BIRC is not within their jurisdiction.

Recreation Division: Recreation Superintendent Bryan Garoutte said that staff will be hiring a floor monitor for busy times at Bainbridge Island Recreation Center. The transition to the new Tennis Bookings software is going well. Exercise and fitness classes at BIRC are very full and more are being offered. Spring soccer league will begin March 11. The gymnastics department has been able to hire new staff and therefore able to move patrons off the waitlists and into classes. Outdoor Program Manager Stacey Stoner earned her wilderness first responder certification. The first middle school dance since the pandemic will be February 4. Recreation Division Director Mark Benishek said that staff opened two additional classes in response to demand for after school robotics. He commended all the recreation staff for their work to move as many patrons as possible off waitlists and into programs by expanding class sizes or adding sections.

Park Services Division: Park Services Division Director Dan Hamlin said they are meeting weekly with the consultant for the Strawberry Hill Park plan. The Martin Luther King Jr Day of Service event had about 175 participants and was well received. Staff continues communication with City of Bainbridge Island staff regarding playground permits. Denise Stoughton has met with the Bainbridge Island Historical Society which has agreed to archive the letters received by the proposed Kindred Spirit Mailbox and there is a volunteer to build the structure. Location will be the next discussion if the board decides to move forward with the proposed project. Senior Planner Perry Barrett has been working on the Williams-Olson Park permitting process.

UPCOMING MEETINGS & EVENTS:

The board agreed to reschedule the board retreat to Thursday, March 23 from 5:00-8:00 pm.

BOARD MEMBER ITEMS:

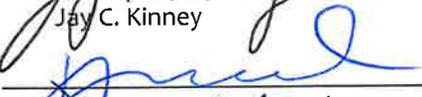

- Commissioner Janow recommended withdrawing from the troll project due to increased demands from the builder and the board agreed.

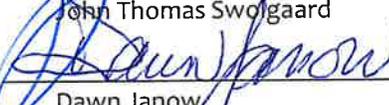

- Commissioner Swolgaard said the Trails Advisory Committee has changed their meeting time to one that does not work with his schedule so he would like to withdraw as a board liaison to that committee. MSC: Janow/ Swolgaard: Remove Commissioner Swolgaard from the Trails Advisory Committee and add Commissioner DeWitt for 2023.
